Dear Delegates,

This is a Call for Participation in the 2023 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE OF NGOs holding from 12th till 17th of July, 2023 and 22nd till 27th July, 2023 in the USA and Oxford, United Kingdom respectively where as many as over 400 participants from across the world including Health Practitioners, Professionals in relevant fields, Lawyers, Psychologists, Women and Youth Development Groups, Government Officials, Donor Agencies and participating NGOs will meet to discuss issues pertaining to the Welfare of NGOs and also to meet others like yourself; to learn, teach, inspire and being inspired. This event will be exploring the potential of a practical approach that will unleash and nurture the human capacity to create, collaborate and change positively, the world at large.

What are the objectives of this meeting? The meeting will provide a medium where participating individuals and NGOs will convene to address and discuss ways of improving key Humanitarian issues and topics with much emphasis on Human Rights, Gender Equality, Peace and Security, Social and Economic Development, Youth and Children, Health Education, Ethics and Value and Environmental Protection. Participating NGOs will have direct access to apply for grants from International Donor Agencies.

The opening Lecture will be held by Bill Johnson who is currently representing Ohio's 6th district in the US Federal House of Representatives.

Keynote addresses will be given by António Guterres (current UN Secretary General), and Mrs. Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala who is the Director General of World Trade Organization.

The program will include:

- * Thought-provoking plenaries
- * In-depth breakout and dinner sessions for strategy-development
- * Capacity and skills-building sessions; and
- * Debates to stimulate discussion.

In addition to the main program, the meeting will also host book launches, artistic and cultural activities, exhibitions, plenty of space and opportunity for informal networking and alliance building.

All plenaries and selected breakout sessions will have interpretation into English, Spanish and French.

Who can participate? What happens if more than 400 participants apply? Anyone who is a member of an NGO, Professionals in related fields, Students Unions, Lecturers of Universities and Community based organizations, the Clergy as well as women and youth development groups can apply to

If more than 400 people apply (as we anticipate), a global selection committee will select a representative of 400 from among the applicants. This committee will ensure that the participants at the meeting are truly international and represent a diverse range of interests, issues, and regions.

The events shall commence on the 12th till 17th of July, 2023 and 22nd till 27th July, 2023 in the USA and Oxford, United Kingdom respectively.

I cannot afford the cost - Can you help? Transparent Hands Foundation worldwide has set up an Access Fund to support the travel costs for all qualified participants.

How do I apply, and when is the deadline? All interested organizations should send an email to the Local Organizing Committee. Participants MUST be a group of 1-5 persons to qualify for registration.
